

WHO WAS SAINT PATRICK?

He who was to become the Self-Proclaimed Patron and Saint of Ireland was born in 385AD. Taken away from his country, he looked for a reason for belief in God, after escaping he entered into a Monastery in France (Gaulles) under Saint Germain in Auxerre. Having become a so-called Christian, he changed his first name from Meawyn into Patrick and finally was sent to Ireland. He thus became the first Irish Bishop, for Catholicism. St. Patrick wasn't even Irish, he was a Frenchman. There might be some ambiguity about him being the 1st Irish Bishop since "Saint Palladius" was sent to Ireland before him. Saint Patrick is being "considered" officially the 1st Bishop, probably since he obtained his known success.

Interestingly the SNAKE, (the "Serpent" symbol of satan in the Bible book of Genesis) being used, as the second symbol used by the Irish Saint, is supposed to be rather a legend than real. Snakes aren't common to Ireland and could be a kind of symbolism of the pagans that were to be converted to catholicism. It also represents the image of those pagan Druid priests, before their conversion into a "more profitable religion." As a representation of the Catholic Church, he is also the true "Irish symbol" of pagan Catholicism. HOW APPROPRIATE!

"New Amsterdam" (aka) New York was the fertile ground for Irish immigrants, who chose to come to America, unlike black slaves, to take a political stand back in the 1700s, so "St. Patrick's Day," became a Religious tool & platform as well as a Catholic/Political view on which people could get elected into office with the blessing of Catholicism. No differently than Governor George Wallace, a republican, and self-proclaimed racist, was elected in the south on the platform supported & bolstered by the racist "KKK" organization. George Wallace wasn't actually a true racist... but he used the Republican power of Racist Southern, "Bible-Thumping" Religious Hypocrites to win Southern Elections. Governor Lester Maddox, Senator Strom Thurmond, and Governor Barry Goldwater, along with Senator Trent Lott, were/are no different. But those latter ones along w/Mormons were/are INDEED, DESPISERS OF OTHER RACES!

BTW: "The original COLOR of St. Patrick's Day was BLUE, and not GREEN! LOL!

So, who did they chose to follow? Was it GOD, or was it their own political/religious views and interpretations? Is this NOT why men are also killing others, and forfeiting their own lives for?

For a man cannot serve two masters!
